Dear Participant:

I regret to inform you that we will be unable to fund proposal entitled "Title" which you submitted in response to solicitation, our Solar System Exploration Research Virtual Institute Cooperative Agreement Notice.

Our solicitation notes that proposals should clearly articulate the relevance of the proposed research to NASA goals/objectives, and especially to the specific research goals given in Section 1.4, the relevance of the Team's research program and associated approach to the nature of the Institute consortium, specific areas in which the Team's activities will contribute to strategic goals for exploration and science, and the value to science and exploration that derives from addressing questions common to multiple Target Bodies.

Thus, despite the merits of your proposal, it is simply not compliant to this solicitation. Best of luck in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Technical Representative,
Planetary Science Division
